UPCHURCH, GEO. W. DAVIS, A. M. SOR-RELL, and A. D. JONES.

WHAT IS THE DIFFERENCE?

The chief difference between the endowed of Mr. BUNN and PROF. McIVER are in the credentials they bear, their past records, and the records of the parties they represent.PROF. McIVER says he does not up-prove of the Sub-Treasury bill without amendments, but would vote for it. Mr.
BUNN says the same thing, adding, "after I had discussed the amendments with DR. MACUNE and the other members of the Legislative Committee, I WILL DO ALL IN MY POWER TO PASS THE BILL, WHETHER THEY APPROVE OF MY AMENDMENTS OR NOT."As to the demand of the Alliance in regard to a R. R. Commission, Mr. BUNN says: "I am in favor of a Railroad Commission for North Carolina," and as to all the other demands which were endorsed by the committee that nominated him, Mr. BUNN says: "I STAND UPON THE PLATFORM OF THIS CONVENTION AS FIRMLY AS THE ROCK OF GIBRALTAR."PROF. McIVER is a lawyer, and once hung his shingle out at Carthage. Mr.
BUNN is a successful lawyer, and his shingle hangs out at Rocky Mount.PROF. McIVER is a farmer and says he is a good one. Mr. BUNN is a successful farmer—lives on his farm—and has larger interests in farming than PROF.
McIVER.What is the difference between them?
PROF. McIVER has always been a Radical of the 1868-9 type, and bears his credentials from JOHN WILLIAMSON'S (col.) Convention. He has never been heard to denounce the Radical oppression of his section; the infamy of the Force bill; the scandalous robbery of the farmers by the sectional tariff; the growing pension steal; and the horrors of reconstruction. On the contrary, he has publicly endorsed all this legislation or silently acquiesced in it. On the other hand, Mr. BUNN has consistently and persistently fought all this legislation and denounced its authors. He bears the credentials of the true and faithful white Democrats of Alamance, Chatham, Durham, Franklin, Johnston, Nash, Orange and Wake—and they will elect him by an increased majority over his vote of two years ago.PROF. McIVER cannot fool the Alliance. His Radicalism is too prominent, and his political record too bad.

HAND-BOOK OF 1888.

There is a demand for the Democratic Hand-Book of 1888. THE CHRONICLE will be obliged if all parties who have copies they can spare will send them to this office.THE RADICAL CANDIDATE FOR SOLICITOR.COL. THOS. M. ARGO, the present Radical Solicitor of the Fourth District, who owes his election four years ago to the local differences among the Democrats of Wake, the Knights of Labor betrayal by JOHN NICHOLS, and the buddle of CHAS. D. UPCHURCH, has published a long card addressed "To the voters of Harnett, Johnston, Wake and Wayne counties," asking their votes.
His card is full of sophistry and lacking in that frankness which should charac-terize a candidate for office. He does not say that he is a Radical and that he has no hope of election unless the negroes give him a solid support. He does not say that he will vote for Hoover, a colored barkeeper of Raleigh, to represent the good people of Wake in the Legislature in preference to Mr. GEO.
DAVIS, Mr. W. B. UPCHURCH, Mr. A.
M. SORRELL or Mr. A. D. JONES—four of whom are prominent Alliance men. He does not state his record at all. He knows that the people will never endorse it, and instead he seeks with all the sophistry he can employ to divert the attention of the people to other matters—matters purely political. In one breath he declares that the office of solicitor is not a political office, and then consumes most of his circular in discussing political questions. It will be observed by every intelligent man that all the legislation he advocates is Democratic doctrine. If he were in earnest in advocacy of this legislation, he would join the Democratic party.
Let us notice what he advocates:First—The repeal of the Internal Revenue system. Well, the voters will say "Mr. Argo, your party is in power, why don't you repeal it?" And there is no answer he can make. The MILLS bill provided for an amelioration of most of the hardships of the system and Mr.
ARGO's close political associate, JOHN NICHOLS, voted against that bill. In the present House, North Carolina Democrats tried to secure a repeal of the Internal Revenue system, but CZAR REED would not allow it to be done. The truth about the Internal Revenue system is that outside of North Carolina and Virginia, and parts of Georgia, South Carolina and Tennessee, neither party is anxious to repeal this system. North Carolina Democrats have done all they could to secure the repeal of the Internal Revenue laws. SOME Republicans have done what they could.
That is the status of this question, and any attempt upon the part of Col. Argo to make capital upon the Internal Revenue will fall to the ground.SECOND—He advocates a reformation of the Tariff along Democratic lines.
"Then in the name of all that is manly" the people will say, "why doesn't he join the Democratic party?" And they will answer that it is because he expects to deceive them by advocating Democratic doctrine, while affiliating with Radicals. It is his party that has put all the burdens upon the people; it is his party that has made binding twine free for Western farmers and trebled the duty on cotton tagging; it is his party that has lowered the duties on articles classed as luxuries and increased it upon the necessities; it is his party that has discriminated every year more and more against Southern farmers, and which is responsible for the aggregation of the wealth of the country in the hands of a few individuals, to the impoverishment of the people at large. There is no man that knows this better than Col.
ARGO, and yet he remains a Radical and tries to gain favor with the people by pretending to be in favor of Democratic reforms. He must leave the Radical party if he is honest in his professions.THIRD—He discusses and endorses the maxim "all elections ought to be free," yet he carefully avoids all reference by name to the infamous Force bill. How any patriotic North Carolinian can discuss the freedom of elections without specifically denouncing the Force bill is something that no man can understand except an office-hunting Radical. He can explain it, probably, in the same way he can explain why he can affiliate with the party that continually and maliciously heaps dishonor and oppression and rank injustice daily upon the people of his section.He winds up by congratulating the people that "for the first time in thirty years the people are determined to vote for the man, and not for caucus or ring nominees." The intimation here is that Mr. POU, the honorable, sober, and upright Democratic candidate, is a ring nominee. THE CHRONICLE need not say that such an intimation is not true.
Every body knows that Mr. POU was nominated by the patriotic white farmers, business and professional men, and mechanics of the counties of Harnett, Johnston, Wayne and Wake and that he is their candidate. They put him in the field, and they will elect him.COL. ARGO is the Radical candidate and bears their credentials as much as if he had been regularly nominated. It was decided to hold no Convention.
"We can fool weak-kneed Democrats better if ARGO poses as an independent candidate, and we know he is a dyed-in-the-wool Radical" was the reasoning of the Radicals.The Democrats will not be deceived by any such pretence and COL. ARGO is serving out his first and last term. He has no claim whatever upon any man for his vote except upon the regular mossy back Radicals with whom he has long been in close affiliation in every way.ENTERPRISING NORTH CARO-LINIANS.MR. T. J. CHEEK, a native of Orange county, who is now at Bangkok, Kingdom of Siam, sends the CHRONICLE a copy of the Bangkok Times, which contains a description of a new steamer built by the Cheek Syndicate, of which DR. M.
A. CHEEK, who went to Siam from Orange county, is the head. DR.
CHEEK and his brother are now in the Teak timber trade in Siam, and are prospering. The North Carolinians are thus becoming pioneers in enterprise in Siam. They succeed the world over, and give glory to their native State.

THEY ARE FINDING IT OUT.

(Bill Arp)
The average farm tenant buys $100 worth of goods in a year besides his meat and bread. Of that $100 he pays $40 in tariff to the government at Washington but does not pay more than $5 in tax to his own State government. JUDGE WRIGHT was once a member of Congress and told me in a whisper that if the farmers of this country knew how much they paid on their hats and shoes and clothing, and axes and hoes and plates and knives and forks and paper and pens and lamps and kitchen ware and every other ware they would rise up to a man and shoulder their muskets and swear by the eternal they wouldn't stand it.
He said it wouldn't be safe to let them know it.

RATS!

Oh! Rats! the public will cry when they see the advertisement of a dealer claiming he has the biggest stock in town, and the biggest etc., and making other improbable state-say we carry a nice line of goods and make prices right, and have a good trade.
